Location & surrounding area:

Platja de Canyamel is located in the northeast of Mallorca, within the municipality of Capdepera, nestled between the wooded hills of Cap Vermell and Cap de Pinar. The fine sandy beach stretches for about 300 metres in length and around 80 metres in width. The area is characterised by lush greenery, pine forests, and the Torrent de Canyamel, which flows directly into the sea at the beach. The small village of Canyamel borders the beach and offers a peaceful and well-maintained atmosphere.

The sea slopes gently and is usually calm – ideal for swimming or water sports activities. Despite its good facilities, including showers, toilets, lifeguards, and the option to rent sun loungers and umbrellas, the beach remains pleasantly relaxed even during the summer months. Restaurants and small cafés are within walking distance and blend in harmoniously with the natural surroundings.

Just a short walk away are the famous Coves d'Artà – impressive caves with striking rock formations. The historic Torre de Canyamel watchtower and a well-kept golf course also enhance the area's appeal. Platja de Canyamel combines natural tranquillity with high-quality infrastructure – an ideal place for those seeking a special home close to the coast.
